A Message from ASHI

Over the past few weeks, we've been working hard to roll out significant updates to the ASHI website and database, designed to improve your overall experience. As with any major update, there have been a few bumps along the way, and we appreciate your patience and understanding as we work to ensure everything runs smoothly.

With these updates, we are excited to introduce new features and improvements that will benefit you as a member.

This newsletter highlights two important areas:

- Helping you easily access your account
- Providing you with guidance on how to find and access ASHI Edge courses

Important Login Information

Ensuring a Smooth and Successful Login Experience

As we launch our updated website and database, we've identified a few common login issues that some members have encountered. To help make the process easier, we'd like to provide some important reminders.

What You Need to Do:

- Please use your email address associated with your ASHI membership when logging in, not your member number.
- If you experience any login difficulties, do not create a new account. This can cause issues with your profile and prevent password resets.
- For detailed instructions on how to log in,
